

Regis HRG Partners with The Big Kaboom to Reduce the Impact of Divorce in the Workplace

MIAMI, FL – 9/30/16: The Big Kaboom, a provider of divorce support services, announced that Regis HR Group will offer The Big Kaboom's services as a wellness benefit to its employer clients and their employees.

"We are thrilled to partner with The Big Kaboom on this unique benefits offering", commented Carlos Saladrigas, Regis HRG CEO. "As someone who experienced divorce, I know the impact that divorce can have on your work performance while going through the process. The fear of the unknown and the resulting stress and anxiety can be debilitating. I have no doubt that both our employers and their employees will benefit greatly from this service."

The Big Kaboom delivers a personalized service that helps employees navigate the divorce process. By implementing The Big Kaboom's voluntary participation program, employers allow their employees access to information, on-going support and vetted professionals throughout their divorce process. The resulting benefit to employers is improved employee performance, reduced absenteeism and a positive bottom line impact.

"Relationship-related stress costs employers about $300 billion dollars annually", commented Carlos Blanco, the company's founder. "Chances are 50% or more of married employees will divorce at some point. The stress and apprehension caused by divorce often results in a depressive state affecting employee performance measured in reduced attendance, motivation and focus. There is no doubt that divorce has a major impact on employees and employers alike."
